Craig Jandoli Comes to "Start a Fire"

Craig Jandoli has been speaking to teenagers all over the country, since he was a teenager with his message of selflessness and making positive choices. He is a high energy speaker whose enthusiasm is contagious. His audiences are entertained with his sense of humor and the stories of his life. He has an amazing ability to help others see through the distracting external appearances of others and to treat people around them with love and respect. Many students have told me that Craigs' presentation inspired them and has changed their lives.
